KUALA LUMPUR, 28 May - The government will distribute the second phase of Bantuan Sara Hidup (BSH) 2019 today.

Finance Minister Lim Guan Eng said for new applicants who did not receive the first-phase cash aid of RM300, the payment would be combined with the payout for the second phase based on the BSH 2019 eligibility category.

“To ensure the BSH 2019 programme is targeted at recipients who are genuinely eligible, any appeal can be submitted from July 1 to Aug 15, 2019,” he said in a statement today.

A total of RM1.42 billion has been allocated, which will benefit nearly 3.6 million BSH recipients and 3.23 million of their children aged 18 and below, except for children with disabilities whereby no age limit is imposed.
